Anja, Anja, Anja

by ABBY GARDNER

Not that I really needed more reasons to love Anja Rubick—aside from the legs, the gorgeous face, etc—but she gave me a few when I finally met her in person last night at the launch of the Wii yoga game that features her.

Here are three things I know about Anja now that I didn't know before:

1. She loves going home for Christmas as much as we do. She even does all the baking at her house, while her mom handles the massive amounts of cooking.
2. We're currently reading the same book, The Beautiful Fall. Though my guess is she'll have a little more insight, seeing as she just spent four days with Karl Lagerfeld.
3. While I was jealous when she told me she'd just jetted from Paris to Nice to LA to New York...and that in few weeks she's working in my fantasy vacation spot, The Maldives, she was so sweet and lovely to chat with that I couldn't even hate her.

Don't go changin', Anja!
